

CANIMUN 2017 DELEGATE CODE OF CONDUCT

To ensure the success of CANIMUN, all participants are required to adhere to a code of conduct when participating in conference events. Delegates who do not adhere to the code of conduct risk being removed from the conference.

BEHAVIOUR

Participants must always engage with delegates, faculty advisors, CANIMUN staff and volunteers, as well as venue staff and other conference persons in a respectful professional manner. This includes being respectful and courteous of others, as well as being prepared for and committed to conference activities. Any illegal behaviour, including theft, bullying, sexual harassment, and illicit drug use, will not be tolerated.

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION

Delegates are expected to attend all scheduled committee sessions punctually. Delegates are also strongly encouraged to attend the social events, in order to meet with and engage with other youth in a more informal setting.

CANIMUN works hard to prepare the Embassy Visits Programme. In order to maintain positive relationships with the diplomatic community, it is imperative that delegates attend any scheduled embassy visits and are punctual and respectful during their visits. Failure to attend a scheduled embassy visit may result in ineligibility for awards or scholarships.

DRESS CODE

Delegates are required to wear business formal attire during committee sessions, embassy visits, and ceremonies. For males, this should include a suit or jacket and dress pants, with a dress shirt, tie/bow tie and dress shoes. Females should wear a dress, suit, dress slacks or skirt with a blouse or sweater and/or blazer and dress shoes. Jeans, revealing clothing and sneakers are not acceptable as business formal attire. National costumes are not permitted. Participants should dress appropriately for social events.
